DIED FROM MORPHINE

The Coroner's Jury So Decides in the Case of Frank McDonnell. The inquisition governing the case of Frank McDonnell, who died one week ago today at the Monroe Gold cure, took place in the Eagle hotel parlor yesterday afternoon, Deputy Coroner John E. Perkins was present and conducted the inquest. Dr. De Voe, who was called to attend the dead man, was sworn and testified to having found McDonnell suffering with nervous prostration and alcoholism His condition showed unmistakable signs of collapse. He administered the neces sary remedies prescribed in such cases, in the hope of reviving him, but to no avail. When asked by Coroner Perkins in an indirect manner if McDonnell had, in his judgment, received the proper medical treatment, he answered

PLUMPAND THIN PEOPLE

TWO PITTSTONS Do You Know What It is That Makes the Difference?

CAREFULLY DESCRIBED.

No Matter to Which Class You May Belong You Need to Know What Follows.

What makes some people plump and fleshy and others thin and bouy? Is the human body run and shaped in an invisible mould? And what strange effects this difference produces. Beauty always demands curves-it never allows angles. A woman may be thin and graceful but not thin and beautiful. With men the question of flesh, artistically speaking, is of less importance; yet it may be of great consequence in other respects. Too much fat is a burden too little is also a seriens disadvantage. How can we strike the golden mean! if, indeed, we can strike it at all. With the Turks fat is the standard of beauty, and with all nations a reasonable amount of it is the measure of health-in animals and in men. But the tendency seems to be the wrong way just now. There is a vast number of gaunt, pale, thin, peo-ple; people manifestly under the pro-per size and weight. Many of them are actually emaciated yet not markdose of morphing. When asked what amount of the drug would produce death to a subject unaccustomed to its edly suffering from recognizable di-

the dead man came to the institute thin and feeble! Because they do not digest and assimilate their food. Indeed their meals more often work harm than good. The torpid and disordered stomach cannot do the work imposed on it. The contents ferment and putrefy and scatter posionous acids all through the body, setting up gout, rheumatism, bronchitis, consumption and profound nervous maladies. The system grows feverish. Often there is ususes and vomiting; a sour fluid rises into the throat; there is distress after eating, deadness and distention of the adomen, giddiness, bad breath hot finshes followed by creeping chills yetlow eyes and skin; langour and wearimental depression; shortness of breath, and variable nervous affections. Nature needs help. So much is plain. But how can we help her? We must permanently.

The only reliable remady is not a drug but a food, prepared from certain fruits rich in starch, and pre-digested so as to require for the present no digestive action, a food capable of being once absorbed nto the body without putting a strain on the enfeshed digestive organs.

This is wonderfully done by the naw preparation called Paskols, which is made on the correct scientific theory. When eaten (for it is a food, not a drug) it immediately becomes a flesh-building, life-giving element in the blood. increase of vitality, vigor and weight is felt at once, and the symp-ioms of the previous depressed, devitazed state pass away.

Yet Paskoin, while a true food, needs to be used for a short time only. It gives nature power to put herself to rights and then its work is done. The oint is that it soon enables the tomach to digest any fool, even strong meats. Then the patient may follow his appetite and consult his palate

Of late years pale, thin people, of both sexes, have come to an increasing majority. Young persons grow tail and slender, without breadth or stamins, and perish as fast as the grow. The statistics of the throat and lung hospitals tell the story of their fate. They are born with brains and nerves, but without the most important ar-rangement of all—a competent diges-tive system. The doctors keep them going an stimulants for a while and

DRY ITCHING SCALES THAT CRACKED AND POPPED OPEN.

LINDLEY, STEUMEN Co., N. Y., April 11, 1890. FOSTER, MILBURN & Co., Buffalo, N. Y. GENTLEMEN: - When about ten or twelve years old I was troubled with cracks across the palm of my left hand, and when they healed the trouble broke out on my head, and every winter it would come out as a sort of tetter and make scales all over my head. I have not been free from it a single winter since, but it was worse last winter after I had the grippe, for then it came out in spots all over my body. I had a doctor examine me, and he told me worse. Scales would form over the sores and then dry out until they would crack and pop open, showing a watery matter. My skin was all like a dry wrapper. It felt as though it had dried on me. The scales were so bad that they would collect in the bed and have to be shaken out. It was about this time that I commenced using B. B. B. I was so bad that I was ashamed to take my hat off before a neighbor. I had used five bottles of another medicine without noticing any effect; but when I commenced to take B. B. B. the sores came out thicker than before, and they burned like fire; they were immense blotches of fire that would burn so I could not sleep. The way they burned and liched can not be told, and I hope no one else may ever know from experience. The only relief I could get was from washing the sores with some B. B. B.

I stuck to the medicine and was on the fourth bottle before I could see that I was really better, although I knew that it was better to get such rottenness out of my blood than to have it stay there. I did say once that I wished I had never commenced taking B. B., but my wife encouraged me, and to-day I thank her for the advice, for I am in good health now, and I don't believe I ever would have been with my blood in such a condition as it was.

· My scalp now is clean and clear of all scales and tetter, and on my body there are only small spots to show where the sores were, and these spots are free from scales. I do not doubt but that the cure will be perfect.

I am now on the sixth bottle and will take more until every spot is gone. firmly believe that Burdock Blood Bitters will cure the worst disorders of the blood, for such certainly was mine.
